DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 11-20 in the reply filed on 06 Apr 07 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that claims 1-10 are different embodiments are related and not distinct having at least one related operation therebetween, in addition the search and examination of all the claims would not be a serious burden on the examiner. In addition the applicant states that the examiner has not identified separate classifications, separate status in the art or different fields of search for the different Species. This is not found persuasive because

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claims 1-10 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 06 Apr 07.

Initially it is noted that the examiner provided an Election of Species, which is based upon applicant's 4 embodiments. The requirement for election is for the examiner to identify different embodiments/figures which the examiner did, thus addressing the applicant's statement concerning separate status/classification. Although the claims may have one related operation, this in itself does not preclude the claims from being restricted/elected, since the other operations of the claims are obviously not the same. Although the applicant states that the inventions are not distinct (which the examiner presumes means non-obvious variations), the examiner has restricted the claims based upon their distinctness and of course the burden of the examiner. It should be noted that regardless of whether the claims fall into the same search/status/classification the claims being distinct would seriously burden the examiner by searching for multiple inventions.

Drawings

Art Unit: 2622

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(b) because they are incomplete. 37 CFR

1.83(b) reads as follows:

When the invention consists of an improvement on an old machine the drawing must when possible exhibit, in one or more views, the improved portion itself, disconnected from the old structure, and also in another view, so much only of the old structure as will suffice to show the connection of the invention therewith.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The application currently has drawing which are illustrative of graphs, however, there is no drawing(s) illustrative of how the invention is carried out/steps required, thus the examiner requests the applicant to provide a drawing (i.e. flow chart at least) to illustrate the steps/process which is being carried out.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2622

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Graves et al., US 2003/0103057.

In considering claims 11-13, 16 and 19-20,

a) the claimed obtaining intensity...is met by color correction window 230 (Fig 2) which allows the user to select/alter/adjust luminance and chrominance values (the claimed variation) and intensity/hue (the claimed intensity).

b) the claimed calculating average and variance...is met where the system computes the mid's and differences of the selected luminance/chrominance value and the luminance/chrominance value of the other pixel.

c) the claimed calculating luminance-contrast adjustment...is met where the system includes "auto-contrast buttons" (para 87, 88, Fig 4).

d-e) the claimed constructing...is met where the system constructs a representation of the color-space whether cylindrically or graphically.

f) the claimed applying...is met where the selected points on the curve/position of the luma and chroma selected are applied to the video signal to map the original pixels.

In considering claims 14 and 17,

Graves discloses the use of LUT's (para 110).

In considering claim 18,

As stated above with respect to claim 11, Graves discloses the use of a cylindrical representation or tables.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure—see newly cited references on attached form PTO-892.

The Patent Electronic Business Center (EBC) allows USPTO customers to retrieve data, check the status of pending actions, and submit information and applications. The tools currently available in the Patent EBC are Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) and the Electronic Filing System (EFS). PAIR (<http://pair.uspto.gov>) provides customers direct secure access to their own patent application status information, as well as to general patent information publicly available. EFS allows customers to electronically file patent application documents securely via the Internet. EFS is a system for submitting new utility patent applications and pre-grant publication submissions in electronic publication-ready form. EFS includes software to help customers prepare submissions in extensible Markup Language (XML) format and to assemble the various parts of the application as an electronic submission package. EFS also allows the submission of Computer Readable Format (CRF) sequence listings for pending biotechnology patent applications, which were filed in paper form.
